Report on Symposium on “Impact of Economic Factors and Changing Technologies on Millennial Career” 13th January 2020

The Internal Quality Assessment Cell and B. Com Department in Collaboration with Financial Planning Academy took the initiative of conducting a One day Symposium on “Impact of Economic Factors and Changing Technologies on Millennial Career” on Monday 13th January 2020.

Financial Planning Academy (FDA) is the education division of Sykes and Rays Equities Ltd providing financial services to the nation for the last 30 years for businesses in broking, wealth management and education. The main purpose for conducting this workshop is to provide a medium to exchange views, ideas, and the latest innovations in the arena of financial market. This symposium was organized to encourage faculty and students to develop research based insight for the process of teaching and learning.

The event started with the lighting of the lamp by Professor K. Sukumaran (Dean, National Institute of Securities Markets); Mr. Vishal Gada (Director of Financial Planning Academy), Principal Dr. Milind Vaidya (SIES ASCN); Vice-principal Dr. Koel Roy Chaudhary (SIES ASCN); and Coordinator (BCom) Ms. Rupali Zele. Then, Principal Milind Vaidya welcomed dignitaries and felicitated Mr. K. Sukumaran and Mr. Vishal Gada, Mr. Kirtan Shah (CEO and Co-Founder Ambition Learning Solutions), while the Vice Principal Dr. Koel Roy Chaudhary felicitated Mr. Zaheer Sayed, ACCA, Ex Associate Director, Union Bank of Switzerland and Mr. Tanuj Poddar, CEO Banking Programs, Financial Planning Academy.

In keeping with the theme of the Symposium, the discussions of the forum were largely focused on financial issues. It focused on how youngsters can enter this field and sustain. To begin with, Professor K. Sukumaran, Chief Guest of the event shed light on the “State of the Indian Economy”. He began by stating that though Indian economy has seen a slowdown, in the long term the forecast is positive for the economy. Mr. Sukumaran also stated the importance of insurance by mentioning the fact that only 20% of people have insurance coverage and 80% don't. He mentioned that Indian banking system is really up to the mark and only the non-performing assets and bad loans are our liability. He further discussed Jan Dhan Yojana because of insurance reforms our country will benefit by foreign sectors entering India, he added. Even the stock market was a part of discussion where he remarked only 3% of Indians participate in the stock market, therefore we need more financial and stock market literacy. He gave five golden rules for beginners and few tips for first time investors.

The session was continued by Mr. Vishal Gada, Director of Financial Planning Academy, wherein he conducted corporate training as well as an investor awareness program. He further spoke about how the FPA had tied up with NLSM for CP training of 200 + faculties. He added that FPA had been associated with 150 BSFI domains + 64 districts associated + several financial institutes and colleges. The session continued with the introduction of Zahir Sayyed (ACCA of Union Bank of Switzerland) and Tanuj Poddar (CAA of Financial Planning Academy).

Thereafter, Mr. Kirtan Shah acquainted the audience with capital markets and the importance of comprehending them. He explained how the five factors represented by the acronym ICICI: I – Inflation, C – Currencies, I – Interest Rates, C – Company Fundamentals, I – International Investors and Markets - led to the many fluctuations in capital markets; one of the significant factors being inflation. For instance, he elaborated how in the case of inflation, the interest rate rises, equity market falls, dollar rate increases, rupee value decreases, gold value increases and bond value decreases, and how it is an important index in the book of stock market. Then Mr. Sayyed, a qualified accountant, talked about artificial intelligence and how it was taking over jobs. In this context, he underlined that to ensure employability in this scenario, a student should be updated with the technology and well versed with programmes like. PYTHON, which dealt with Algo trading programmers.

Lastly, Mr. Poddar discussed the emerging opportunities in the banking sector. It included opportunities in the front end as well as the back end. He mentioned : opportunities, learning and growth, stability and security and compensation- as the benefits of joining BFSI . This session gave youngsters a great deal of knowledge about the market and guided them about their future. Not only the students and faculty members of SIES ASCN, but also members from other colleges attended the symposium.

At the end of all the technical sessions, the hosts Ms. Ananya Gon (Faculty, BMS) and Mrs. Snehal Patil (Faculty, BCom) summarized the highlights and time was allotted for Q & A. The valedictory session including the vote of thanks by Dr. Koel Roy Chaudhury aptly concluded the day.

Around 20 teachers from colleges across Mumbai, Navi Mumbai and Raigad partook in an interactive session with all the guests proposing ideas for many more sessions like the Symposium in future. Around 50 students from final year students from TYBom and TYBFM had an opportunity to gain knowledge from dignitaries practising the field of Commerce and Finance. Overall, the participants had a rewarding session thanks to the content based presentations by all the resource persons.
