My journey in SIESASCN...

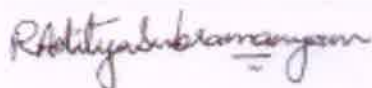

Admission into the SIES (Nerul) College of Arts, Science and Commerce has been one of the best things to have happened in my life. During the five years (2 years at Junior College and 3 years of the graduation programme) that I spent at the College, not only did I gain academic knowledge but also several other positive attributes like – leadership skills, team playing, discipline, commitment and the like.

The teaching staff at the College is the major highlight and magnet to pull students to it. The learned teachers are very patient in understanding and addressing the diverse needs of the students. It is their dedication which brings splendid academic results to the college, year after year. I too secured a 100/100 in the Cost Accountancy examination conducted by the Mumbai University in the final year of my graduation programme.

The College gives a plethora of opportunities to hone the personalities of the students. I developed leadership skills during the various offices held by me at the Students' Council which culminated in me being the General Secretary of the Council. I developed language and editorial skills when I was appointed the Editor of the College Magazine, "Cache" for all the 3 years' when I was pursuing the graduation programme.

The College is warm and welcoming towards its alumni and reaches out to them for conducting various events for the benefit of the current students of the College. I too continue to remain closely associated with the College and try to contribute to its development in whichever way possible.

Here's wishing the College the best, now and forever.

My Journey in SIESASCN...

I have completed my junior college in 2011, graduation in 2014 (BCom Financial Markets), post-graduation in 2016 (MCom Accounting Finance) from SIES (Nerul) College of Arts, Science and Commerce. My experience at SIES has not only played a prominent role in my professional journey but also helped me evolve personally.

Rise with Education has been the motto of the college, which is truly inspiring and adhered to with spirit. Our teachers have always inspired us to challenge ourselves and grow everyday. Moreover, I am very thankful to my teachers who have immensely guided me with my career decisions.

SIES has always encouraged all-round development by promoting extra-curricular and co-curricular activities like projects and presentations, financial market fairs, industrial visits, cultural festivals, debate competitions and group discussions, social service activities and sports events.

Having the liberty to choose from so many options and activities as per my likes and interests was a privilege in its own way which helped shape my personality.

Just to share some anecdotes –

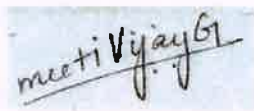

The group discussion and debate competitions held in college helped me during interviews for jobs wherein I had to be confident in my approach.

My participation in cultural festivals in college helped me organise a lot of office functions.

The projects and presentations in college had polished my reading skills and knowledge of the current affairs which helped me do research and assignments at office.

SIES has been a perfect choice for me as it helped me hone my soft skills and technical skills along with providing exposure. When I look back it has been a memorable journey, which motivates me to stay in touch with the college and participate in the Alumni association and activities.

Thanks and regards,

Meeti Vijay Gala
