The very first activity was all about how we nowadays react to the situations. The participants were distributed an activity wherein they were asked to follow the instructions written on it. This activity depicted that how we read the instructions carefully and act accordingly. Then the students were asked to watch a video that showed how to communicate in various situations that also shows what exactly is our personality.

In the next activity the participants were divided into groups and were asked to draw pictures like furniture, animals, etc.. that depicts their personality in common. After that they were asked to explain the picture that they drew. Everyone enjoyed this activity.

The last activity for the day was that the participants were asked to form a queue according to their respective birth month without uttering a single word, they were allowed to do actions only. This showed how important is the sign language and even the body language so that the person understands it. Overall all the activities were amazing and were enjoyed too.
