SNEHITH RAJ

AKANKSHA GUPTA

Dear Readers,

Welcome to the latest edition of the Placement Magazine! As the editors, we're thrilled to bring you the inspiring stories of our students journey towards a successful career.

At SIES (NERUL) College of Arts, Science, and Commerce (Autonomous) our Career Guidance and Placement Cell has been tirelessly working to provide our students with top-notch opportunities and guidance to help them realize their dreams. In this issue, you'll find compelling success stories of our alumni who have carved out impressive paths in their respective fields.

Furthermore, we've curated articles on emerging career trends, expert insights, and invaluable tips and tricks to empower our students for the competitive job market. Our mission is to arm our students with the essential skills and knowledge to tackle any professional challenge head-on.

We extend our heartfelt gratitude to our esteemed faculty members, dedicated placement team, and all contributors who have made this issue possible. It's our sincere hope that this magazine serves as a valuable resource, inspiring our students to soar to greater heights in their careers.

Happy reading!

PRINCIPAL'S NOTE

DR. KOEL ROYCHOUDHURY
PRINCIPAL

We have come a long way since the establishment of our institution 25 years ago. Our main vision is to provide a path to our students to develop career rather than just provide placement. The Placement cell facilitates the potential of the students which are developed by an environment of academic progress and holistic development. This nurtures the students by developing their employability skills. We have fostered the industry association over the past several years. We wish to continue the same relationship with the recruiters. Through this brochure, we would like to put forward the qualities of the students in finance, management, Human resource and Information technology. We would take this opportunity to invite you to our campus and evaluate our students talents.

CONVENOR'S NOTE (COMMERCE & ARTS)

MS. SUGANDHA JHA

VICE PRINCIPAL & CONVENOR (COMMERCE & ARTS)

SIES (Nerul) College of Arts, Science and Commerce (Autonomous) was established in 1998, has proudly completed 25 years of academic excellence. Our Career Guidance and Placement Cell plays a vital role in supporting students on their journey from campus to corporate. With a strong focus on career development, the cell actively facilitates training programs, on-campus placement drives, pre-placement talks, workshops, guest lectures, and seminars to prepare students for the competitive world ahead.

As our students step into one of the most pivotal phases of their academic life, it is time for them to showcase their talents, skills, and capabilities. Campus placements mark a significant milestone—an opportunity to begin their professional journey with promising prospects. A good placement is not just a job; it's the foundation for a fulfilling career and future.

We extend our best wishes to all placement aspirants.

CONVENOR'S NOTE (SCIENCE)

MS. ARTI BANSODE
CONVENOR (SCIENCE)

As the academic year draws to a close, it is a moment of reflection for the Placement Committee. The journey through the placement season has been filled with learning experiences, both for the students and for us as facilitators.

The ever-evolving demands of the industry continue to challenge us to adapt and grow. Preparing students for these expectations is not an easy task, but it is one we approach with commitment and responsibility. This year brought its own set of challenges, but also valuable insights into how we can better equip our students for the future.

Our goal remains to guide students not just towards job opportunities, but towards meaningful careers. With the combined efforts of faculty, students, and industry partners, we look forward to building a stronger placement ecosystem in the coming years.

Best Wishes to Everyone.

ABOUT THE PLACEMENT COMMITTEE

The Placement Committee is a student-run organization that works towards bridging the gap between students and potential employers. The committee is responsible for organizing various activities and events, such as campus recruitment drives, industry interactions, and skill development workshops, to help students enhance their employability and secure their dream jobs.

The committee comprises enthusiastic and dedicated members who are committed to providing the best opportunities and guidance to their fellow students. They work closely with the college administration, faculty members, and industry experts to create a conducive environment for students to explore career prospects and make informed decisions.

Through their efforts, the Placement Committee strives to create a strong and well-connected network of professionals, students, and alumni who can contribute to each other's growth and success.

KRISH DEDHIA GENERAL SECRETARY

Serving on the Placement Cell for the past two years has been an incredibly enriching journey, beginning as a volunteer and culminating in my role as General Secretary. This experience offered me the chance to take on greater responsibilities and grow both personally and professionally. I developed resilience, adaptability, and a solutions-oriented mindset while navigating challenges and leading initiatives. Coordinating events, mentoring peers, and collaborating across departments honed my leadership and teamwork skills, while also deepening my appreciation for clear communication and strategic planning. The unwavering support and guidance of our seniors and faculty mentors played a crucial role in shaping my journey, inspiring confidence and creativity in our team. As I look ahead, I carry with me the values of empathy, collaboration, and perseverance, eager to make a positive impact in every opportunity that lies ahead.

VARADA KATKAR JOINT GENERAL SECRETARY

Taking on the role of Joint General Secretary of the Placement Cell for 2024-25 has been one of the most rewarding experiences of my college life. It gave me valuable insight into the dedication and coordination required to support students in their career journeys. From managing communications and organizing placement drives to helping students navigate the process, each task brought new challenges that strengthened my leadership, organizational, and problem-solving skills. Working with a passionate and driven team made the experience even more fulfilling, pushing me to grow both personally and professionally. I'm truly grateful for the trust placed in me and the opportunity to contribute to something so impactful—this journey will always remain a meaningful chapter in my story. The lessons I've learned here will continue to guide me as I take on future challenges with confidence and purpose.

SECRETARIES (SCIENCE)

AKANKSHA GUPTA GENERAL SECRETARY

I began my journey with the Placement Cell two years ago as a volunteer. During that phase, I had the opportunity to be actively involved in organizing recruitment drives, coordinating with candidates, and managing various aspects of the process. Never did I imagine that I would one day be given the honour of serving as the General Secretary of the Placement Cell – Science. This year was particularly challenging for tech placements, but it also opened doors for us to focus on student development. We introduced several initiatives such as monthly aptitude tests, alumni interaction sessions, and mock group discussions to better prepare students for the corporate world. It was a truly enriching experience to lead and execute these activities. Despite the hurdles, we successfully placed students in reputed companies like LTI and Deloitte. This journey has been instrumental in shaping both my personal and professional growth. The experiences, challenges, and lessons I've encountered have significantly contributed to the person I am today. Being a part of the Placement Cell has been one of the most rewarding aspects of my college life, and I will always cherish the role and the memories attached to it.

ASSAD QURESHI JOINT GENERAL SECRETARY

Being a part of the Placement Cell these last few years has been of vital importance for me, and a large part of my life. It turned me from an introvert to someone who has the confidence to speak in front of a crowd of hundreds. It has taught me how to be a part of and lead a team through thick and thin. It has taught me you can't put a value on clear communication, and most importantly, I believe it has taught me the value of perseverance.

PLACEMENT TEAM INTERNSHIP

Being an Internship Head has been a truly enriching and unforgettable experience. This role gave me the opportunity to take on real responsibilities, contribute meaningfully, and grow in ways I never imagined. From coordinating with companies to ensuring smooth execution of tasks, every moment was a chance to learn and lead. I'm sincerely thankful to Sugandha Ma'am for her constant guidance and support throughout this journey. A big thank you to our General Secretary Krish and Joint General Secretary Varda for their incredible cooperation and encouragement at every step. As this chapter comes to an end, I feel proud of what we've achieved together and grateful for the memories made along the way.

ANURAG GUPTA (INTERNSHIP HEAD)

As Internship Head of the Placement Cell, I gained valuable experience and skills, including: Industry insight and networking, Event management and coordination, Communication and relationship-building, Leadership and team management, Problem-solving and adaptability. This role taught me the importance of strategic planning, effective communication, and collaboration in achieving goals. Overall it was quite an excellent experience!

ISHA GHIWARE

PLACEMENT TEAM INTERNSHIP

As the Internship Head of the Placement Cell, I led a team to source and coordinate internship opportunities by connecting with companies and HR professionals. This role gave me valuable exposure to the corporate world and helped me develop essential skills like communication, leadership, time management, and teamwork. Guiding volunteers and managing the process boosted my confidence and prepared me for future professional challenges.

SANIKA CHAVAN
(INTERNSHIP HEAD)

The Placement Cell is one of the most innovative and efficient committees in this esteemed college. I'm immensely grateful to be a part of it. As an Internship Head this opportunity helped refine my interpersonal skills and gave me a glimpse into the corporate world. The members are supportive and hardworking, while the core committee is adept at delegation and coordination which has been displayed profoundly in all our endeavours this term.

Special thanks to Dr. Koel Roychoudhury , the Principal, and Ms. Sugandha Jha, the Convener of cell and an excellent and accomplished mentor.

PLACEMENT TEAM

ADMIN

Joining the Career Guidance and Placement Cell in my second year as the Admin Head has been one of the most enriching experiences of my college life. From the very beginning, I was welcomed by a team full of positivity, dedication, and friendship. Working with such an amazing group not only gave me countless memories and friendships to cherish but also helped me grow both personally and professionally. I've learned so many valuable skills—team coordination, time management, communication, and problem-solving—that will always stay with me. This journey has truly shaped a better version of me, and I'll always be grateful for being a part of this incredible team.

IMRAN MULLA
(ADMIN HEAD)

Working with the placement cell was an incredible experience that helped me develop essential skills like leadership, communication, teamwork, and event management. I gained hands-on experience in coordinating activities, managing teams, and interacting with students and professionals. This experience not only enhanced my confidence but also prepared me for future professional opportunities, networking, and career growth. It was a valuable learning experience that I'll always appreciate.

UDAY CHANDRAKANT UGADE

PLACEMENT TEAM ADMIN

My journey with the Placement Cell began in my second year when I joined as an admin volunteer. Back then, I was eager to learn and contribute wherever I could — from handling permissions to assisting with documentation and coordinating behind-the-scenes logistics. Every task, no matter how small, felt like a stepping stone toward something bigger. In my third year, I was honored to take on the role of Admin Head. This position not only amplified my responsibilities but also gave me the opportunity to lead a dedicated team, streamline processes, and ensure the smooth functioning of all administrative operations.

This journey has been nothing short of transformative. It has shaped my organizational abilities, strengthened my leadership skills, and taught me how to thrive under pressure while balancing academics. Most importantly, it's instilled in me a deep appreciation for collaboration and the impact of well-executed planning. Being a part of the Placement Cell has been one of the most enriching experiences of my college life — one I'll always carry with pride and gratitude.

CORPORATE RELATIONS

As the Corporate Relations Head of the Placement Cell, I have had the opportunity to lead efforts that connect academic learning with real-world industry practices. In this capacity, I have facilitated meaningful engagement between our institution and a wide array of corporate partners, while carefully planning and executing recruitment drives to ensure a smooth and professional experience for both recruiters and students. Leading a committed team of volunteers, I have managed numerous initiatives and events designed to build strong industry ties and create valuable career opportunities for our students. From initiating contact with HR professionals to coordinating company visits and overseeing campus placement processes, I have been deeply involved in every stage of recruitment. This role has allowed me to contribute to the career development of my peers and establish lasting partnerships with top organizations.

Being part of the Placement Cell isn't just a role; it's a canvas where potential is painted with the lines of innovation and ambition.

CORPORATE RELATIONS

Being the Corporate Relations Head for the Placement Cell this year has been one of the most fulfilling parts of my college journey. It pushed me out of my comfort zone and taught me so much about responsibility, teamwork, and communication. Reaching out to companies, handling calls, and coordinating drives felt intimidating at first, but with time, I grew into the role and started enjoying the process. What made it even more special was working with a team that was always supportive and motivated. I'm genuinely proud of how much I've grown through this experience, and I'll always carry these memories and lessons with me.

CAESAR ANDRE RAPOSE
(CORPORATE RELATIONS HEAD)

Being a part of the Placement Cell has been nothing short of a whirlwind—from the moment I got selected to the end of my tenure, it all felt like it passed in a flash. I will always be grateful to Arti Ma'am for being such a supportive faculty guide throughout the journey. A special thanks to our heads, Akanksha and Assad, for their incredible leadership and constant encouragement. And of course, to the team that stood by me through everything—Caesar, Abhijit, Isha, and Prashant—thank you for being such a solid foundation support system and for making this experience truly memorable.

PLACEMENT TEAM MEDIA

As the Media Head of the Placement Cell at SIES College, Nerul, this year has been nothing short of a transformative journey. When I first took on the responsibility of managing the digital presence of the Placement Cell, I knew it was more than just posting updates. It was about creating a strong, credible, and engaging brand that reflected the values and achievements of our college. From strategizing our content calendar to capturing moments during recruitment drives and curating creative campaigns for student engagement, every task came with its own set of challenges and learnings. Managing the Placement Cell's social media was not just about design or captions; it involved coordination with multiple teams, timely communication, and a constant eye on quality and professionalism.

One of my proudest achievements was streamlining the visual identity of our platforms and significantly increasing student interaction through informative posts, student success stories, and recruiter highlights. It was fulfilling to see our efforts contribute to building a bridge between students and opportunities. This role taught me the importance of teamwork, time management, and adaptability. It helped me grow not just as a communicator but also as a leader who could bring a vision to life through digital storytelling.

As I pass on the baton, I feel immense gratitude for the support from my team, mentors, and faculty. I'm proud to have played a part in shaping the face of the Placement Cell and I look forward to seeing it reach new heights in the years to come.

PLACEMENT TEAM IT

My journey as the Placement Stream Head has been nothing short of transformative. Starting as a volunteer in my first year, I got the opportunity to observe and learn the inner workings of the placement process. In my second year, I was honored to be entrusted with the role of Stream Head—a position I earned through dedication and consistent effort.

This journey has played a vital role in shaping both my professional and personal growth. It helped me discover and strengthen essential skills such as leadership, coordination, and effective communication. The experiences, challenges, and learnings throughout this period have been invaluable, and they've contributed immensely to the person I am today.

I will always cherish this role and the memories attached to it, as it has been one of the most rewarding parts of my college life.

ABHIJIT DAS
(IT STREAM HEAD)

Being a placement volunteer has been a transformative experience for me. Working across different teams taught me how an organized system operates and gave me insight into various roles within the IT industry. I got the chance to explore new technologies and understand how the placement process is handled professionally. Being reserved by nature, this journey encouraged me to step out of my comfort zone, improve my communication skills, and grow both personally and professionally. It truly felt like a glimpse into the corporate world beyond college life.

BBI

My journey with the placement cell began as a volunteer in my first year, and now, in my third year, I'm honored to lead it as a Stream head of BBI. This experience has been nothing short of transformative, playing a pivotal role in my personal and professional growth. I've developed a wide array of skills, from creative design using Canva to efficiently managing administrative duties, coordinating campus recruitment processes, and ensuring seamless hospitality. The opportunities to learn and grow in such a dynamic environment has been invaluable, shaping me into a more confident and capable individual.

KINJAL CHAUDHARY
(BBI STREAM HEAD)

My journey with the Placement Cell began in the second year of college, and what started as a curious step into something new has now become one of the most meaningful things of my college life. Today, I'm a permanent CR volunteer. This experience has not only shaped my professional skills but also impacted my personal growth. From discovering a love for creative design through Canva, to helping in campus recruitment drives and seminars, and ensuring every hospitality detail is just right—every moment has been a lesson, a memory, and a chance to grow.

The Placement Cell has given me more than just experience; it has given me confidence, purpose, and a sense of belonging. Being surrounded by passionate and driven individuals in such a dynamic environment has taught me the value of teamwork, resilience, and stepping out of my comfort zone. I'm truly grateful for every opportunity, and smile this journey has brought into my life.

BMS

Becoming the BMS Head of the Placement Cell was a fulfilling journey. Ever since I joined as a volunteer last year, I aspired to take on this role. Leading the team gave me the chance to support my peers in their career paths and connect with top companies. I had the support of an amazing placement committee, especially Krish and Varada, our GS and JGS, who stood by me throughout—this wouldn't have been possible without them. Together with our dedicated volunteers, we collaborated closely, assigning tasks based on individual strengths and staying organized through regular meetings and brainstorming sessions. We successfully conducted drives with companies like KPMG, Zouk.etc This experience taught me valuable lessons in leadership, teamwork, and perseverance. I'm proud of what we built and confident it will benefit future students.

AKSHATA PRADHANI
(BMS STREAM HEAD)

Being a junior volunteer in the Placement Cell was a truly enriching experience that introduced me to the basics of teamwork and event management. This role helped me develop a sense of responsibility, sharpen my organizational skills, and understand the importance of collaboration. It also gave me the opportunity to observe and learn from senior members, which helped me grow both personally and professionally. The experience not only boosted my confidence but also motivated me to actively contribute to future initiatives.

BAF

As the BAF Stream Head in our college placement cell, I've had the privilege of guiding my peers through their career journeys. I love organizing finance-focused workshops, assisting with interview prep, and connecting students with opportunities. Being part of this committee allows me to combine my passion for finance with my desire to help others succeed. The most rewarding part is seeing my classmates land great roles - it reminds me why leadership is about lifting others up. This experience has strengthened my skills in communication, event management, and teamwork while deepening my commitment to our collective success.

ADITYA CHAVAN
(BAF STREAM HEAD)

Volunteering for the Placement Cell in college was honestly one of the best parts of my time there. I got to help set up placement drives, it was a bit hectic at times, but also really fun and worthwhile. I learned a lot about communication, teamwork and gained useful media skills. Plus, it was a great way to meet new people and be involved in something important on campus.

PLACEMENT TEAM

BAMMC

Taking up the role of the Placement Cell Stream Head in my college was something I never imagined for myself. I am a quiet and introverted person, and I never thought I would be leading a team or interacting with companies. It was my HOD who encouraged me to step out of my comfort zone and take up this challenge. When I started, I honestly didn't know what to expect.

As a student, I used to think that the corporate world and dealing with companies was something big and difficult. Talking to people felt challenging. But this role slowly pushed me to open up, speak to new people, and take responsibility. It didn't happen overnight, but over time I saw changes in myself. This role taught me how to lead. It's not easy to get things done or keep a team motivated, but with time I learned how to manage and guide others. It gave me a sense of leadership I didn't know I had.

Being part of the placement team became the most important part of my college journey. It helped me become more confident and prepared me to face the real world. I'll always be thankful for this opportunity because it shaped me in so many ways.

JULI GUPTA
(BAMMC STREAM HEAD)

I would like to extend my heartfelt gratitude to the Placement Cell of SIES for their unwavering support and guidance throughout the placement process. The training sessions, mock interviews, and consistent updates played a crucial role in preparing me for the real-world challenges. I truly appreciate the efforts of the entire team in creating opportunities and bridging the gap between students and the industry. This journey has been a great learning experience, and I'm proud to have been a part of it. Thank you for helping me take this important step towards my professional career.
